About information:

Blood is the most essential thing for human life. It is an inhuman body fluid that delivers necessary substances such as nutrients and oxygen to the cells. Technically blood is a transport liquid pumped by the heart (or an equivalent structure) to all parts of the body, after which it is returned to the heart to repeat the process. To donate blood or platelets, you must be in good general health, weigh at least 110 pounds, and be at least 16 years old. Parental consent is required for blood donation by 16-year-olds; 16-year-olds are NOT eligible to donate platelets. An adequate amount of blood is needed in all health care facilities to meet the urgent need for patients facing trauma and other lifesaving procedures, such as blood transfusions – which saves millions of lives each year. Donating blood is a simple procedure that can be done within an hour. Safe blood saves lives. Blood is needed by women with complications during pregnancy and childbirth, children with severe anaemia, often resulting from malaria or malnutrition, accident victims and surgical and cancer patients

Vasantidevi Patil Institute of Pharmacy, Kodoli organized a blood donation camp under the National Service Scheme Department on the occasion of 60th Birth anniversary of Late Shri Pradip Yashwant Patil (BaBa) Blood Donation Camp was inaugurated by Shri Yashwant Shikshan Prasarak Mandal Secretary Hon. Dr. Jayant Pati. A total number of more than 16 blood donors donated blood. and The principal of the college Dr. Santosh Payghan provided valuable guidance for the implementation of this Program. Also present on the occasion were Mrs. Vaishali Pawar, Office Superintendent Program Officer Mr. Suraj Jadhav, Mr. Umesh Patil as well as teachers and teaching staff of the college were present.

• Agriculture –

In regards to urban agriculture, rainwater harvesting in urban areas reduces the impact of runoff and flooding. The combination of urban 'green' rooftops with rainwater catchments have been found to reduce building temperatures by more than 1.3 degrees Celsius. Rainwater harvesting in conjunction with urban agriculture would be a viable way to help meet the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals for cleaner and sustainable cities, health and wellbeing, and food and water security (Sustainable Development Goal 6). The technology is available, however, it needs to be remodeled in order to use water more efficiently, especially in an urban setting.

Kenya has already been successfully harvesting rainwater for toilets, laundry, and irrigation. Since the establishment of the country's 2016 Water Act, Kenya has prioritized the regulation of their agriculture industry. Additionally, areas in Australia use harvested rainwater for cooking and drinking. Studies done by Stout et al researching the feasibility in India found RWH was most beneficial used for small-scale irrigation, which provides income with the sales of produce, and overflow used for groundwater recharge. Missions to five Caribbean countries have shown that the capture and storage of rainwater runoff for later use is able to significantly reduce the risk of losing some or all of the year's harvest because of soil or water scarcity.

In addition, the risks associated with flooding and soil erosion during high rainfall seasons would decrease. Small farmers, especially those farming on hillsides, could benefit the most from rainwater harvesting because they are able to capture runoff and decrease the effects of soil erosion.

About Project –

Rainwater harvesting (RWH) is the collection and storage of rain, rather than allowing it to run off. Rainwater is collected from a roof-like surface and redirected to a tank, cistern, deep pit (well, shaft, or borehole), aquifer, or a reservoir with percolation, so that it seeps down and restores the ground water. Dew and fog can also be collected with nets or other tools. Rainwater harvesting differs from stormwater harvesting as the runoff is typically collected from roofs and other surfaces for storage and subsequent reuse. Its uses include watering gardens, livestock, irrigation, domestic use with proper treatment, and domestic heating. The harvested water can also be committed to longer-term storage or groundwater recharge.

Rainwater harvesting is one of the simplest and oldest methods of self-supply of water for households, having been used in India and other countries for many thousands of years.[5] Installations can be designed for different scales including households, neighbourhoods and communities and can also be designed to serve institutions such as schools, hospitals and other public facilities

Applications –

- Domestic use –

Rooftop rainwater harvesting is used to provide drinking water, domestic water, water for livestock, water for small irrigation, and a way to replenish groundwater levels. Collecting and storing rainwater can provide water for domestic use in periods of water shortage. Rainwater may also provide a solution when the water quality is low or varies during the rainy season in rivers and other surface water resources

@ Vasantidevi Patil Institute of Pharmacy, Kodoli

Many countries, especially those with arid environments, use rainwater harvesting as a cheap and reliable source of clean water. To enhance irrigation in arid environments, ridges of soil are constructed to trap and prevent rainwater from running down hills and slopes. Even in periods of low rainfall, enough water is collected for crops to grow. Water can be collected from roofs, dams and ponds can be constructed to hold large quantities of rainwater so that even on days when little to no rainfall occurs, enough is available to irrigate crops.

- Industry –

Frankfurt Airport has the biggest rainwater harvesting system in Germany. The system helps save approximately 1 million cubic meters of water per year. The cost of the system was 1.5 million dm (US$63,000) in 1993. This system collects water from the roofs of the new terminal which has an area of 26,800 square meters. The water is collected in the basement of the airport in six tanks with a storage capacity of 100 cubic meters. The water is mainly used for toilet flushing, watering plants and cleaning the air conditioning system.

Rainwater harvesting was adopted at The Velodrome – The London Olympic Park – in order to increase the sustainability of the facility. A 73% decrease in potable water demand by the park was estimated. Despite this, it was deemed that rainwater harvesting was a less efficient use of financial resources to increase sustainability than the park's blackwater recycling program.

Harvesting of Rainwater -

Rainwater harvesting systems consists of the following components:

- Catchment- Used to collect and store the captured rainwater.
- Conveyance system – It is used to transport the harvested water from the catchment to the recharge zone.
- Flush- It is used to flush out the first spell of rain.
- Filter – Used for filtering the collected rainwater and removing pollutants.
- Tanks and the recharge structures: Used to store the filtered water which is ready to use.

The process of rainwater harvesting involves the collection and the storage of rainwater with the help of artificially designed systems that run off naturally or man-made catchment areas like- the rooftop, compounds, rock surface, hill slopes, artificially repaired impervious or semi-pervious land surface.

Several factors play a vital role in the amount of water harvested. Some of these factors are:

- The quantum of runoff
- Features of the catchments
- Impact on the environment
- Availability of the technology
- The capacity of the storage tanks
- Types of the roof, its slope and its materials
- The frequency, quantity and the quality of the rainfall
- The speed and ease with which the rainwater penetrates through the subsoil to recharge the groundwater.

The rainwater harvesting system is one of the best methods practised and followed to support the conservation of water. Today, scarcity of good quality water has become a significant cause of concern. However, rainwater, which is pure and of good quality, can be used for irrigation, washing, cleaning, bathing, cooking and also for other livestock requirements.

The different methods of rainwater harvesting include:

- Rooftop rainwater harvesting – The rooftop becomes the catchments, and the rainwater from the building and houses are collected. The components of the rooftop rainwater harvesting are:
  1. First, flush.
  2. Transportation.
  3. Catchment.
  4. Filter.
- Surface runoff harvesting – It is the system that collects rainwater, which flows away as surface runoff. The runoff rainwater is caught and used to recharge aquifers by adopting appropriate techniques.

- Washing of garage or sidewalks.
- Cleaning of toilets.
- Swimming pool refills.

About Project –

Vermicompost is known to be the world's best fertilizer. Vermicomposting is a method of preparing enriched compost with the use of earthworms. It is one of the easiest methods to recycle agricultural wastes and to produce quality compost. Earthworms consume biomass and excrete it in digested form called worm casts. Worm casts are popularly called as Black gold. The casts are rich in nutrients, growth promoting substances, beneficial soil micro flora and having properties of inhibiting pathogenic microbes. Vermicompost is stable, fine granular organic manure, which enriches soil quality by improving its physicochemical and biological properties. It is highly useful in raising seedlings and for crop production. Vermicompost is becoming popular as a major component of organic farming system. Using Vermicompost can fulfill the requirements for organically grown products.

Good quality compost production in ambient temperature can be accomplished in shorter time by the process of vermicomposting that involves use of proper species of earthworms. The native cellulase activity of earthworms and microorganisms in earthworm gut promote faster decomposition of ingested organic material. The combined effect of enzymatic activity and grinding of organic materials to fineness by earthworms produces the vermicomposting and this is not observed in compost pits without earthworm.

Production Technology*Vermicomposting materials:

Decomposable organic wastes such as animal excreta, kitchen waste, farm residues and forest litter are commonly used as composting materials. In general, animal dung mostly cow dung and dried chopped crop residues are the key raw materials. Mixture of leguminous and non-leguminous crop residues enriches the quality of vermicompost. Red earthworm (Eisenia foetida) is preferred species of earthworms because of its high multiplication rate and thereby converts the organic matter into vermicompost within 45-50 days. Since it is a surface feeder it converts organic materials into vermicompost from top.

Process of vermicompost preparation:

Vermicomposting is done by either bed or pit method. In bed method composting is done on the pucca / kachcha floor by making bed of organic mixture while in pit method it is done in the cemented pits.

- Vermicomposting unit should be in a cool, moist and shady site .
- Cow dung and chopped dried leafy materials are mixed in the proportion of 3: 1 and are kept for partial decomposition for 15 – 20 days.
- A layer of 15-20cm of chopped dried leaves/grasses should be kept as bedding material at the bottom of the bed.
- Beds of partially decomposed material of size 6x2x2 feet should be made.
- Each bed should contain 1.5-2.0q of raw material and the number of beds can be increased as per raw material availability and requirement.
- Red earthworm (1500-2000) should be released on the upper layer of bed.
- Water should be sprinkled with can immediately after the release of worms
- Beds should be kept moist by sprinkling of water (daily) and by covering with gunny bags/polythene.
- Bed should be turned once after 30 days for maintaining aeration and for proper decomposition.
- Compost gets ready in 45-50 days. The finished product is 3/4th of the raw materials used.

Harvesting:

When raw material is completely decomposed it appears black and granular. Watering should be stopped as compost gets ready. The compost should be kept over a heap of partially decomposed cow dung so that earthworms could migrate to cow dung from compost. After two days compost can be separated and sieved for use.

Vermicompost has a plethora of benefits, most importantly as follows:

- (1) it acts as biofertilizers, restores soil nutrients, stabilizes soil, and enhances soil fertility at a long-term period;
- (2) it attends to social issues and recycles waste; and
- (3) it is shown to be a profitable enterprise as a circular economy

In particular, vermicomposting makes it possible to :

- (i) reduce the volume of organic waste,
- (ii) stabilize organic matter.
- (iii) increase plant biomass production through several mechanisms: it increases the soil content in organic matter, which in turn decreases the soil bulk density and increases the availability.

Vermicomposting provides employment opportunities as it protects the environment, augmenting crop productivity when it is used as a fertilizer supplement and helping to maintain ecological balance. Thus, vermicompost plays an important role in the circular economy.

In fact, vermicompost can enhance soil fertility physically, chemically and biologically. Physically, vermicompost-treated soil has better aeration, porosity, bulk density and water retention. Chemical properties such as pH, electrical conductivity and organic matter content are also improved for better crop yield.

Plant Growth Regulation and Higher Yields

Studies abound that show that vermicompost or worm castings application results in a higher yield with crops ranging from strawberries to tomatoes to peppers and more. Some vermicomposts can also feature hormones that regulate and promote plant growth.

COVID-19 GUIDELINES FOR PREGNANT WOMEN

Although there is no current data that shows that COVID-19 affects pregnant women different from other patients, it is known that pregnant women are at a larger risk of falling from respiratory viruses than women who are not pregnant. Hence an abundance of caution is advised for pregnant women at this time.

Important ways you can stay healthy during the COVID-19 pandemic:

- Avoid people who are sick or who have been exposed to the virus.
- Stay home whenever you can or stay six feet away from people when you're outdoors.
- Wash your hands with a sanitizing soap, after exposure to any foreign objects.
- After coming into contact with surfaces outside your home or items that are delivered to your home.
  - After going to the bathroom or after changing diapers.
  - Blowing your nose, sneezing, or coughing.
- Before preparing and eating food.
- Before breastfeeding.
- Avoid touching your face with unwashed hands.

Essential factors to consider when pregnant

Nutrition:

Nutrition is a key factor for both pregnant women & babies considering the diet of a pregnant woman. I believe there are 5 essential items that should be on their plate, like:

1. FRUITS & VEGETABLES: Whichever fruits and vegs they like to eat should be taken on a daily basis
2. General food items like chapati, roti and rice should there in their daily diet
3. Milk & milk products like curd, chenna etc. form an important part of the pregnancy diet
4. Food items that are rich in protein like fish, chicken, egg, soybean, pulses are highly recommended for a pregnant woman
5. Have some dry fruits like almond, walnut etc.
6. Take immune boosters regularly which include Haldi, citrus fruits, ginger, honey, etc.

COVID-19 risks to pregnant women and the baby

There is much that is still unknown about the risks of COVID-19 to pregnant women and the baby. Here are some of the known risks that women can avoid during their pregnancy-

Mother to child transmission of COVID-19 is not likely during pregnancy. But after birth, the newborn can be infected after being in close contact with an infected person, including the mother and other caregivers.

The number of babies that have been tested positive is less, according to published reports. But, it's unknown if the babies contracted the virus before, during, or after birth.

Prenatal and Post-partum care during the coronavirus pandemic

It's vital that you take care of yourself and your baby, during and after pregnancy, here are some of the prenatal and post-natal precautions you can take during the COVID-19 pandemic:

Inquire your healthcare provider about the necessary steps that are being taken to separate healthy patients from the ones who are sick

Ensure that you are updated with your appointments because some healthcare providers may change the appointments or cancel them based on the current situation.

About Function –

Blood is the most essential thing for human life. It is an inhuman body fluid that delivers necessary substances such as nutrients and oxygen to the cells. Technically, blood is a transport liquid pumped by the heart (or an equivalent structure) to all parts of the body, after which it is returned to the heart to repeat the process. To donate blood or platelets, you must be in good general health, weigh at least 110 pounds, and be at least 16 years old. Parental consent is required for blood donation by 16-year-olds; 16-year-olds are NOT eligible to donate platelets.

An adequate amount of blood is needed in all health care facilities to meet the urgent need for patients facing trauma and other lifesaving procedures, such as blood transfusions – which saves millions of lives each year. Donating blood is a simple procedure that can be done within an hour. Safe blood saves lives. Blood is needed by women with complications during pregnancy and childbirth, children with severe anaemia, often resulting from malaria or malnutrition, accident victims and surgical and cancer patients

Vasantidevi Patil Institute of Pharmacy, Kodoli organized a blood donation camp under the National Service Scheme Department on the occasion of Azhadi ka Amrit mohastav Blood Donation Camp was inaugurated by Shri Yashwant Shikshan Prasarak Mandal Secretary Hon. Dr. Jayant Patil and the trustee Mrs. Vinita Patil. A total of more than 70 blood donors donated blood. The Principal of Yashwant International English Academy Shri. Mandar Pasarnikar and the principal of the college Dr. Santosh Payghan Also Program Officer Mr. Suraj Jadhav, Mr. Umesh Patil as well as teachers and teaching staff of the college were present.

वासंतीदेवी पाटील फार्मसीमार्फत पूरग्रस्तांना मदत

कोडोली : श्री बशवंत शिक्षण प्रसारक मंडळ संचालित वासंतीदेवी पाटील इन्स्टिट्यूट ऑफ फार्मसी यांच्या राष्ट्रीय सेवा योजना व उन्नत भारत अभियाना अंतर्गत सातवे गावांमध्ये पूरग्रस्तांना मदत करण्यात आली.

पन्हाळा तालुक्यात झालेल्या दहा फुटीसदृश्य अतिवृष्टीमुळे उद्वललेल्या महापुरात अनुपेक्षितपणे कोट्यावधी रुपयांचे नुकसान झाले तसेच शेतीची

धूळघाण झाली असून संबंधित शेतकऱ्यांसह जनावरांना मोठी झळ बसली आहे.

सातवे गावातील शेती पाण्याखाली गेल्यामुळे जनावरांना खाण्यासाठी चारा उपलब्ध करण कठीण झालं होतं याच पूरग्रस्त वस्तुस्थितीचा विचार करता महाविद्यालयांनी शेतकरी पूरग्रस्तांना जनावरांचा चारा वाटप व पूरबाधित पाण्यामुळे ग्रामस्थांना त्वचा रोगापासून संरक्षण

करण्यासाठी औषधी मलम चे वाटप करण्यात आले. हा उपक्रम राबविण्यासाठी महाविद्यालयाचे प्राचार्य डॉ. संतोष पायधन यांचे मोलाचे मार्गदर्शन लाभले. तसेच संस्थेचे सचिव मा. डॉ. जयंत पाटील आणि विश्वस्त मा. विनिता पाटील यांचे सहकार्य लाभले. या उपक्रमाचे निवोजन राष्ट्रीय योजना समितीचे समन्वयक प्रा. उमेश पाटील व प्रा. सूरज जाधव यांनी केले.

May 15, 2019

Sub : Request for active enrolment for participation under the Scheme of Unnat Bharat Abhiyan (UBA) – regarding

Dear Sir / Madam,

As you may be aware that Unnat Bharat Abhiyan is a flagship program of Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD), Government of India, to involve higher education institutes of the country for indigenous development of self-sufficient and sustainable village clusters for "Inclusive India".

AICTE also envisages that involvement of Technical Education Institutions and its students in rural development will not only enrich rural population but also result in holistic development of students. Hence the Council has created a unique mechanism of awarding 100 Activities Points over and above the academic grades as "AICTE Activity Points" towards community service and allied activities as part of "AICTE Internship Policy" (Policy is available at <http://www.aicte-india.org/content/internship-policy>). The policy also has a provision for earning credits through rural intervention called "Rural Internship".

Thus, the participation of the AICTE approved institutes in "Unnat Bharat Abhiyan" will not only aid in changing the rural landscape but also fulfil the requirement of AICTE "Activity Point Programme". The portal of Unnat Bharat Abhiyan is now available all the times throughout the year for enrolling under the programme. The selection will be done on the challenge mode by the governing body.

Further UBA Best Implementation Award has also been announced for according National recognition to those participating institutes who have demonstrated effective interventions to bring in positive impact in the lives of rural communities.

In this regard, you are encouraged to actively participate and register on UBA website at www.unnatbharatabhiyan.gov.in, and make the programme successful.

Yours Sincerely,

(Prof. Anil D. Sahasrabudhe)
